

INCOLA

July 8-12th, 2026
Lander, Wyoming

How to Till the Community and Reap Culture

Do you think perennial beauty and mysteries should be familiar topics of conversation? That folk songs and dances could be neighborhood pastimes? That it shouldn't be so hard to find a job that contributes to the actual common good?

We are calling all mad lovers of the True, Good, and Beautiful to help us end the exile of culture. Join us for a symposium to ponder the nature of culture, learn the tools for growing it, and combine forces to incarnate it in our own communities.

20% Off Before
April 1st

Who: Liberal Arts lovers and alumni and their families

Where: The Inn at Lander,
260 Grandview Dr, Lander, Wyoming 82520

Cost: $400/person, $700/couple, $100/child
12-17 years old. Need-based scholarships available while supplies last.

Cost includes conference events and all meals.

Schedule:

July 8th: Arrival and opening social

July 9th–11th: Holy Mass, lectures, discussions,
folk songs, and outdoor adventures

July 12th: Sung Holy Mass, closing address, feast, and Viennese Ball

To register, donate, and learn more, go to IncolaConference.com.

Email Nick and Catherine King and Kolya Sidloski at IncolaConference@gmail.com with questions.